

CYHRNet, the McCreary Centre Society and the Stigma and Resilience among Vulnerable Youth Consortium at UBC invite you to participate in an interactive dialogue:

IS THERE ANY HARM IN ASKING?

DISCUSSING ETHICS OF SCHOOL-BASED SURVEYS

MARCH 17, 2010 | 12 TO 4 P.M.
ROOM 2200, SFU HARBOUR CENTRE
515 WEST HASTINGS STREET, VANCOUVER, BC

This half-day workshop will bring together principals and superintendents, school district research oversight administrators, university ethics board members, community health stakeholders, and researchers to address concerns that often arise when doing health survey research in the schools. We invite you to contribute your ideas and experiences to the discussion.

WORKSHOP AIMS:

- Share evidence about potential harms and benefits from conducting school-based research, using the recent province-wide McCreary Adolescent Health Survey to illustrate examples.
- Foster dialogue on the main ethical and practical concerns people have about such research.
- Discuss strategies for resolving some of these challenges.

WORKSHOP REGISTRATION

Registration for this workshop is free and includes lunch. Space is limited, and will be offered on a first-come, first-serve basis. Please RSVP no later than March 15 to SARAVYC Project Director Jennifer Matthews at jennifer.matthews@nursing.ubc.ca. Some funding for travel support for those who wish to attend from outlying regions is also available. Please email Jennifer for further information.
